

Data for Measure 1 (Completer effectiveness) is currently under development, since the EPP's major employer, New York City Public Schools (formerly the New York City Department of Education) does not share this type of data with EPPs. The EPP is in the process to create an advisory board for alumni that will provide structured, systematic feedback in completer impact and effectiveness; EPP is also revamping an alumni survey addressing completer impact in contributing to P-12 student-learning growth AND (b) completer effectiveness in applying professional knowledge, skills, and dispositions. Data for the measure are expected to become available to the public by the next reporting cycle.
